

General Attorney, Privacy and Civil Liberties Unit
Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Office of the General Counsel (OGC)

Via the Retired, reserve, JAG network and Heather Fagan sends a job opportunity in FBI OGC in DC. She writes that it is a good fit for former JAGS.

She provides a brief summary below.

The FBI Office of General Counsel (OGC) has an opening in its Privacy and Civil Liberties Unit in Washington, DC. I have worked in FBI OGC since I left active duty and it's a terrific place to work. The FBI's mission is very similar to the Army's and OGC is extremely collegial like the JAGC. The position is located in FBI HQ in Penn Quarter, which is a fantastic location for shopping, restaurants, and museums.

Please paste into your browser the following link for application details:

<https://www.justice.gov/legal-careers/job/general-attorney-94>

If you apply and qualify, please also forward Ms. Fagan (heatherpsteve@hotmail.com) a copy of your resume and cover letter.